TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIER ENDS MARVELOUS TRIP

U. S. Naval Seaplane NC-3 Safe—NC-4 Is Ready for Next Leg—Congress In Session

Yesterday was one of the biggest days in the history of aerial navigation when Harry G. Hawker, Australian aviator, performed the most marvelous aerial feat ever attempted when he successfully flew from Canada to the British Isles in a little two-passenger biplane.

Aviator Hawkins and his pilot, Commander Mackenzie Grieve, took their lives in their hands when they flew from Newfoundland to Ireland in what was termed by many a foolhardy attempt at suicide. Had they been forced to alight at any time in their twenty-four flight to Europe their planes would have sunk instantly as it carried no pontoon attachment.

As it is, the pair won the $50,000 prize offered by the London Daily Mail for the first airplane crossing the Atlantic in less than seventy-two hours. The latest report stated that the little airplane was sighted ten miles inland from the Irish coast headed for London.

There was great rejoicing everywhere last night with the announcement that the United States naval seaplane NC-3 had proceeded under its own power to Ponta del Gada, Azores, after having been lost in mid-ocean for nearly forty-eight hours. Hope had practically been abandoned for the rescue of the seaplane or its navigators.

The NC-1 was a total wreck and its occupants barely escaped with their lives when they were taken off the flying ship after being at the mercy of the seas for five hours before being rescued by the freighter Pontania. The other seaplane, the NC-4, as reported at Ponta del Gada, although the NC-3 is in the lead by reaching Ponta del Gada ahead of the NC-4 the NC-3 is believed to have been damaged as it had to taxi to the Azores on the top of the water.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The lost naval seaplane NC-3, commanded by Commander John H. Towers, lost in mid-Atlantic since 5:15 Saturday morning, was today reported to the navy department proceeding toward Ponta del Gada under her own power, seven miles from land.

This message was received at the navy department early this afternoon from Rear-Admiral Jackson at Ponta del Gada:

"The NC-3 located seven miles off Ponta del Gada under her own power."

Admiral Jackson's report was taken here to mean that Commander Towers, after having been forced to alight on the water by fog, had been blown northward and eastward by the storm until he was able to taxi his craft to safety on the surface, probably 500 miles from the point where fog forced him down when within a short distance of the "land fall" at the Azores.

PONTA DEL GADA, May 19, 5:25 p. m.—The missing seaplane NC-3 was sighted this afternoon seven miles outside the Ponta del Gada breakwater under her own power.

PARIS, May 19.—Premier Lloyd-George this evening received a message stating that the British transatlantic aviator, Harry Hawker, had flown over Waterford, 83 miles southwest of Dublin, at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The message said the aviator was headed toward England. Waterford lies 12 miles inland from the west coast of Ireland.

E. George Claims Bride In England

Mrs. J. T. Gough of 320 First street received word yesterday from her brother, Ernest George, that he had been married in England to Miss Violet Pritchard who was a visitor in Richmond shortly before the war broke out and who has a number of friends here.

George, who is a well known Richmond lad, has been stationed in Germany with the Third division of the army of occupation and was married to Miss Pritchard while on furlough which he spent in the British Isles. In his letter he states that he and his young bride will make their home in Richmond as soon as he is sent home from overseas.

TWO KILLED IN TRAIN WRECKS

Two Contra Costa county men are dead and three others injured as the result of railroad accidents on Sunday and yesterday. C. E. Wood, a Southern Pacific section foreman, was instantly killed when struck by a train at Port Costa yesterday. Wood dropped off one train and stepped squarely in the path of another fast moving engine. He was badly mangled and died almost instantly.

Powder Inspector Dorn of Hercules was killed and three other Hercules men badly injured when their automobile was struck by a switch engine at Santa Cruz on Sunday morning. The three men who were injured were C. F. Luhmkuhl, N. Hawthorne and J. S. Rich. The party went to Santa Cruz from Hercules on a pleasure trip in Rich's car.

It is believed the autoists attempted to beat the freight engine to the crossing but misjudged the distance and were struck broadside. The auto was totally demolished and all the occupants were badly hurt. Dorn's body was taken to an undertaking establishment in Santa Cruz while the other victims were taken to a city hospital.

NEW BUS LINE GRANTED PERMIT

The board of supervisors yesterday granted T. W. Adams, George Marshall and George Glum a permit to operate a bus line on the county highway between Richmond and Oakland and other points. The applicants had previously announced their intention of operating regular jitney service between Point Richmond and Oakland and will soon be operating their big machines. Fare will be 25 cents each way.

Steamer Clears for New York

The U. S. S. Bath is expected to clear from the Richmond harbor some time today on its way to New York after completing the task of loading several thousand tons of foodstuffs at the municipal dock consigned to the government at the Atlantic port. The Bath is the first of a number of vessels of its character which will be loaded here in the future.

Hundreds of visitors were entertained on board the big ship at the dock on Sunday when Capt. A. D. Walters kept open house for the people of Richmond. This was the first opportunity of many of them to inspect a large modern vessel and the vessel was filled with visitors all day long. L. J. Gallagher is chief mate, C. T. Greenleaf chief engineer and H. C. Allgood paymaster on the vessel.

HORTA, May 19.—The NC-4 was tuning up this afternoon preparatory for its flight to Ponta del Gada.

COUNCILMAN JIM SOME SCRAPPER

Eight Hours or Bust and Scale Time or Fight Is Long's Slogan, and Mayor Bill Seconds the Motion, but Under the Law Both Had to Take the Mat—Will Change Law.

Councilman Jim Long is never happy unless he is unhappy, and last night he was unhappy because his cherished desires and the wishes of the council in general were butted into and jarred by the ordinance and statutes in such cases made and provided.

Don Quixote, a Spaniard of ancient fame, used to go out on his trusty steed, clad in armor and with a spear, and do battle with every windmill he came to, and as soon as we get home we are going to look up Councilman Long's ancestry to see what branch of that Quixote family he springs from.

The principal windmill Councilman Jim was up against last night was the fact that he wanted to bind Mr. Page a contractor who had bid low on some street building, to observe not only the city eight hour law but to pay time and a half, or whatever the prevailing scale is for that craft, for over time. Page was low bidder for the job, and could sue the city if not awarded the contract, and there is nothing in the ordinance or statutes which can compel him to do as Long, and the other councilmen, also, wanted him to do. Other contractors had agreed to that, but Mr. Page, for some reason not quite clear, refused to bind himself, and so a talkfest ensued in which part of the time Long upset the windmills and part time the windmills lifted Long out of the saddle.

Mayor Lane took the same position, while others on the board argued that they had to abide by the law and the ordinances, which are silent as to what wages contractors shall pay.

A vote of the council finally awarded the contract to Page, the vote standing six to three.

NO BILLBOARDS ON MACDONALD AVE.

Protests against the erecting of a billboard on Macdonald avenue between Tenth and Eleventh streets resulted in the city council voting to inform the builder that the council does not desire the board to be placed in that block or any block in the Macdonald avenue fire limits. The builder has already started work on the billboard.

The point was brought out before the council that the owners of the property are holding the lots at an exorbitant price and have refused offers to build from a large number of prospective tenants. The owners are non-residents and consented to the placing of the billboards for the time being to cover the payment of taxes.

OLIVAS HOME FROM HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. Silvio Oliva have returned to their home in San Francisco after going on a honeymoon trip to Southern California following their marriage here two weeks ago. Mrs. Oliva was Miss Louise Esola who recently returned from Italy where she served as a Red Cross army nurse. Oliva is a prosperous commission merchant in San Francisco.

TRIAL FLIGHT IS A BIG SUCCESS

The trial flight of the first of the planes of the Pacific Aviation Company being assembled in Richmond materialized very successfully Sunday when Lieutenant B. M. Spencer went up in a Glenn Martin biplane in the afternoon from the Santa Fe field making a very successful flight over the city.

Large crowds witnessed the flight, many people assembling at the field where the flier alighted. Lieutenant Spencer went up again yesterday afternoon and circled about the city. The sight of No. 434 in the air above Richmond will probably be a daily occurrence from now on as the aviation company has established here for the purpose of engaging in the aerial taxi business.

Stage Pioneer Died Saturday

Patrick Keohane, an old resident of Stege, passed away Saturday at the county hospital at Martinez, after a lingering illness. Keohane was 47 years of age and was very well known in the Stege district among the pioneers. He is survived by a brother Timothy Keohane, a merchant of Ely, Nevada, and five other brothers and sisters living in Ireland, namely, William, Michael, Margaret, Mary and Johanna Keohane. The remains were brought to the Curry undertaking parlors here, where funeral services will be held, the date of the funeral to be decided today.

Mrs. Esther Lottman Passed Away Sunday

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 for the late Mrs. Esther Lottman, an old resident of Richmond, who passed away at Stege on Sunday at the age of 61 years. Mrs. Lottman was the mother of Mrs. T. Manning, Mrs. C. Mason and Frank Lottman and the sister of Mrs. J. Fagen, all of Richmond.

The funeral services will be held at the Smallwood-Murray undertaking parlors with interment in Sunset View cemetery. The decedent was a native of New York and resided in Richmond for a number of years. She had a host of friends here who were greatly grieved to learn of her demise. Rev. H. B. Hadlow will officiate at the services.

The ladies of the Trinity Guild will hold an all-day meeting today at the home of Mrs. Seragiana at Pinole.

THE NEW COUNCIL-WOMAN NOT PRESENT AT SESSION

She Awaits Official Notification And Will Take Husband's Place Next Meeting—Routine Work

It was the general impression around town yesterday that the city council would appoint Mrs. Marie Ogborn to fill the unexpired term of her husband last night at the regular session, and that the lady would be present and receive the honor and be seated, and participate in the deliberations of the body.

The fore part of it happened, but the latter part did not materialize, so much of the interest in the session was dampened. The council duly appointed Mrs. Ogborn to fill the unexpired term of her late husband, which appointment holds till July 1, when she takes her seat by virtue of being elected to the council at the recent election. But the lady did not show up at the meeting, doubtless waiting for the official notification of the appointment, which will be conveyed to her at once by the city clerk. And so the beautiful bouquet of roses which the editor of the News took up there last night fell into the hands of the Philistines, and wilted the minute Mayor Bill Lane and Councilman Jim Long took a smell of it. We don't blame it. It had a wilt coming.

New Fire Hydrants. The Great Western Power Company was granted a permit by the council to change its power line in the Richmond tract, the company planning to replace its wooden poles with steel poles. The council adopted a resolution for a fire hydrant to be placed at Tenth and Clifton and another at Nineteenth and Barrett.

Department Reports. The police department reported forty-one arrests during April and $192 in fines paid. The fire department reported three fire calls during April, the total fire losses amounting to $5. The sum of $100 was set aside to purchase added equipment for the city health office. An electric light will be placed at the corner of Twenty-Third and Humphrey.

Street Improvements. In the matter of street improvements, curb grades were established on Eighth street at the crossing of the Santa Fe Railroad. J. E. Staniger was awarded the contract for the paving of Maple, Hawthorne, Elm and Acacia streets and the alleys between Sixth and Eighth streets, he having submitted the lowest bid for the work.

Page Granted Contract. The contract for the improvement of Twenty-Ninth, Lowell and Andrade streets was laid over one week. Staniger was the lowest bidder.

der for this week. The council, by a vote of 6 to 3, agreed to grant the contract for the paving of Fifth and Lucas streets to L. L. Page.

Page was the lowest bidder for the work. Considerable discussion resulted from the refusal of Page to send in a letter of good faith to the council agreeing to certain requests of the council in the matter of abiding by the eight-hour law, wages to be paid for overtime, and other details. Page was represented at the meeting by an attorney who declared the council could not legally make the request of Page.

Kosy Kove streets. Money will be requisitioned from the general fund for the improvement of the dirt roads in the vicinity of Kosy Kove, this popular resort drawing many visitors during the spring, summer and fall and the roads need rolling and leveling.

Ballots Counted. An official count of the votes cast at the general election last Monday was taken. The only errors were found to be five votes too many for R. H. Slatery and W. W. Scott, the standings not being changed by the errors. The final count showed the contestants ending as follows: Lane, 1,608; Carr, 1,646; Slatery, 1,546; Hays, 1,528; Scott, 1,732; Cushing, 1,170; and for the short term, Ogborn, 1,152; Ellis, 534; Kaeffer, 732; Turner, 201. The two-platoon fire ordinance carried by a vote of 2,515 to 257—nearly 10 to 1.

Adjournment. The matter of specifications for the rock seawall for the harbor was laid over one week, and the council adjourned until Thursday evening, when a special meeting will be held.

BIBLE CLASS PLANS PROGRAM

E. Y. Sanford, chairman of the social committee of the men's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church, is arranging a program to be presented at the meeting of the class next Monday evening in the church. A banquet will be held following the giving of the program. The members are looking forward to a big social time at the meeting.

UNIONS ARE CULPABLE.

The News is a union paper; it is more than that, a semi-labor paper, in that it leans enough in that direction to merit the support and endorsement of organized labor, which it has. But unions are composed of individuals, the same as any other organization is, and are therefore no more perfect than others, and right here the News is going to register a loud roar and kick about a condition of affairs which the unions should remedy, and furthermore, is going to take it up with the Richmond, Oakland and San Francisco locals and International Typographical union.

During the past three years a thousand dollars in cash would not pay for the damage this newspaper has sustained, or reimburse us for cash we have paid out, on account of incompetent men employed by reason of their carrying a union card and their union as competent and worthy of employment. A large percentage of these therefore, presumably, vouched for by alleged printers are not printers at all, but, in the language of the trade, "blacksmiths," and it is an insult to the honest blacksmith to apply any such term to them. They are a lot of drunken bums and thieves and robbers in the bargain, in that they obtain money under false pretensions. Any man who presents a union card, represents himself to be a competent workman, obtains employment and payment of the high scale prevailing for the same, who cannot do the work, or who destroys the extremely valuable property entrusted to his care to work with, is obtaining money under false pretenses and should be arrested and prosecuted under the law just the same as any other crook.

There are just as good printers on this coast as anywhere else, but there is an awful percentage among them that are wholly and totally incompetent and who have no right on earth to be granted or be carrying a union card. We do not know whether this state of affairs applies to other trades unions or not, but venture the assertion that it does, and it is something the unions owe to themselves and to their competent members to take up and remedy.

The worker demands and gets protection from the employer, but the employer is given no protection whatever from the workmen or their unions, and this is unfair, unjust, unmanly and un-American.

In looking over our books we find that we have paid out over a thousand dollars during three years for material ruined by incompetent help, there being no occasion whatever for it. Over $600 of this has been for linotype mats and parts utterly ruined and broken to bits by incompetency. The rest has been for press and various other machinery parts and ruined type and material, all unjustified and unnecessary. We are therefore loser of this thousand dollars and have no redress, and it is not right.

If a man gets hurt in our employ he is protected by industrial insurance under the law, which we have to carry. If we do not pay him his money, the full high scale, and promptly, he can shut our business up in an hour. He has every protection that anybody could ask for. And what protection does the union give the employer? None whatever.

The only answer we get to all this is that if a man does not suit it is our privilege to fire him. Yes, but if we put on a new man today and in an hour afterward he "pies" two forms and skips out, or "forces" a $3,000 linotype machine and breaks a $60 camwheel, what reparation is there in discharging him? That does not repair the damage he has created or make good the money loss.

A union card ought to be a certificate of competency, and no man should be given such a card, entitling him to high pay, unless he is competent and the union giving him the card knows full well that he is entitled to it.

Last fall when we were sick in bed with the foreman of this plant got on a drunk for a month and nearly wrecked the whole establishment, then skipped out and left the Social Service Bureau here to feed his wife and children for months, or they would have starved. We made complaint about that, but got nowhere. His card should have been taken away from him and discipline administered by the union.

Three different pressmen carrying Oakland or San Francisco cards have "pied" forms here and then skipped out and left the mess and the damage on the floor, not even having the manhood to help clean up their own damage. When we planted a garden out in the back yard we hired a garbage man to haul away half a wagon load of broken whiskey bottles and beer bottles, left by our predecessors, and in shaping up the soil we dug up $200 worth of brass mats of a linotype machine that cost 6c apiece chewed all to bits by incompetents who did not know a linotype machine from a haybaler.

And all this besotted bolshevik gentry carried union cards certifying, in effect, that they were good, competent, trustworthy mechanics who were entitled to employment and the full scale of wages paid to those who were competent. This is an insult and an injustice, both to the competent man and to the employer, and something is going to be done about it or this shop for one is going to find out the reason why.

"PROTECTION."

An English manufacturing company announces that it is preparing to put on the market an automobile that can be retailed for $250. If this proves to be the case it is a good bet that Henry Ford, whose control of patents has thus far amply protected his flivvers, will haul in his horns with respect to free trade.—Martinez Gazette.

In other words, our esteemed journalistic brother, being a good old reactionary Republican, wants to bar out the English firm from furnishing this automobile to our people at $250, so Henry Ford can charge the public $600 to $700 for the same machine and continue to pile up hundreds of millions of dollars he has not earned and is not entitled to. That is the old time Republican idea of protection, but it never did protect anybody except the manufacturer, whom is made a multi-millionaire at the expense of the consuming public.

Our neighbor, being human, roars his head off about the prevailing high cost of living, and when one dealer offers him some grub at a dollar which a dealer across the street wants $2 for, he brays where he can get it cheapest, just as he ought to do, in self protection, which is the first law of nature. But he, being intoxicated with that old fog Republican high protection tariff swindle, will not allow others to do what he does himself. He insists upon us paying Henry Ford $2 for what the Englishman is willing to furnish us at $1. If it made any difference to the laboring man, it might have a trifle merit, but it does not. Labor is so scarce you can't get it at any price, and all under a Democratic administration which has little use for "protection" in tariff except for revenue only. Come out of it, Rug. You are lagging behind the procession of progress.

They estimate the total wealth of the United States at $250,000,000,000, or $2500 per capita. There has been evidently a great deal of per capita poaching in this country if its wealth is that much.

The Toledo Blade says work is a surer cure for hunger than marching behind a red flag. Half the time marching behind a red flag doesn't signify a desire for either work or bread. It means "more beer."

Sauerkraut is again appearing on German menus and the Berlin press proclaims the fact as one of the victories of the revolution. We suppose if pig knuckles had come with the kraut the Germans would claim that they won the war.

A Washington social correspondent calls Mrs. Marshall the first lady of the nation during Mrs. Wilson's absence. All right, have it that way. But Vice President Thomas R. lacks much of being the first citizen, although every now and then he parrots a hunk of Hoosier corned beef and cabbage common sense that has a very pleasing effect upon the average Democratic consciousness.

LABOR'S RIGHT TO BE PARTNER

Workers Deny Existing Idea That They Constitute Mere Commodity.

JOINT COUNCILS, IS DEMAND

Delegates of Employees and Representatives of the Management, Talking Over Common Interests, Would Pro-

Labor.

WILL PAYNE,
In Saturday Evening Post.

If you turn to the causes of labor's dissatisfaction one thing stands out all over—aside from the question of wages. The last national convention of the American Federation of Labor emphasized it. It continually crops out in labor's actions and utterances. The gist of it is that labor is not satisfied, and never will be satisfied, to be treated just as a commodity—something taken into the shop at the market rate when the shop has need of it, used impersonally in the processes of production, and dismissed whenever the shop, at the moment, has no further need of it, with nothing in particular to say about the industrial conditions under which it is used except as to the price it shall get, very much as so many carloads of raw cotton or pig iron are taken in.

Labor is decidedly not satisfied with that role. Innumerable quarrels and strikes over shop conditions, discharges, discipline and so on, have their root in labor's resentment at being treated like commodity instead of like sentient humanity. The best efficiency engineers—formerly "scientific managers"—understand that and have worked on it with good results. For example, it is found that delegates elected by the work people and meeting frequently with representatives of the management to talk over common interests promotes harmony. It is found that such delegates, under free and friendly discussion, very often accept the management's view. Or, leaving it to a committee of workmen to pass on fairly work, gets fair judgment in the main and the working force accepts them, whereas it was always protesting against the judgments of a managerial committee.

The rule is that to bring shop and office into closer touch and a steady practice of sitting down and talking things over makes for harmony. To give labor a say, to hear its side—not once a year when a wage scale is to be fixed, but all the time, by frequent meetings—makes for harmony.

A recent dispatch to the New York Journal of Commerce said that joint councils or committees had now been formed in 70 trades or groups of trades. It is a recognition of labor's demand to have its say, to be consulted and for a broader, more direct look-in on the industry by which it lives. It is a protest against the idea of labor as a commodity, with nothing to say except as to what its market price shall be. It is a move in the direction of partnership between capital and labor.

Now, partnership is the true relation between capital and labor. Neither can get on well without the other. Both prosper or decline alike from the same general conditions. Employers are always preaching that, especially when threatened with a strike. They must put it more extensively into practice.
You don't take a man into partnership when you sit down alone and decide what you are going to do for him and then open the window and tell him—while he, peradventure, is sitting down alone and deciding what he is going to do to you and then throwing a brick through the window to let you know.

To Discuss Labor Unrest.
Social and industrial unrest in this country will be one of the chief problems discussed when the National Association of Manufacturers opens its twenty-fourth annual convention at New York May 19.

Other topics to be considered during the three-day conference will be:
Government supervision of railroads; government supervision and stabilizing of trade prices; federal revenue and tax legislation; employment relations; employers' duty to provide jobs for soldiers; approaching revision of patent laws; industrial legislative outlook and vocational training.

Walter D. Hines, director general of railroads; Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio; Prof. William Starr Myers, Princeton university; Frank A. Halsey, commissioner American Institute of Weights and Measures; and Edward J. Pringle, member of the committee on patent law revision, of the council of national defense, are included among the speakers.

Lieutenant Paul Pollett returned home Saturday evening from Kelly Field, Texas, where he was in training in the aviation section and where he won his commission. Lieutenant Pollett was discharged on May 8 but is still a reserve officer.

The Centenary committee of the Methodist church at their meeting on Sunday evening reported total subscriptions of $10,658 from 108 calls made in the first day of their drive to raise $105,000,000 in the United States for the purpose of rebuilding devastated parts of Europe, promoting democracy in various parts of the world and for upbuilding work in the United States.

The committee reported unusual enthusiasm in Richmond on the drive and expects to reach the quota of the city within a few days judging from the fine start made. Peter McCallum, chairman of the local committee, called the meeting to order Sunday evening. On the platform with him were William Hoskings, representing the Epworth League, and the various team captains as follows: Isaac Lester, Joseph Jeffrey, C. D. Rogers, W. C. Roberts, H. W.
Garrard and E. I. Johnston, each of them addressing the meeting.

Their aim is to raise $18,000, covering a period of five years, payments to be made on a weekly basis.
Of this $18,000.00, the sum of $11-200.00 will be used on their own property in the payment of the debt of $2700.00, now on the church, and in the erection of a new Sunday school building to cost $7,500.00.
This new building will contain a gymnasium and social hall which will help to fill a much needed want in this community.

These people who are helping to put this movement across ask the co-operation of all people of Richmond who are interested in the general welfare of our city. They meet every night at the church for luncheon at 6:30 and from there start on their canvass which will continue till the entire sum has been raised.

TRUTH OF CLOCK'S SOUNDS

Real Reasons Why Large Timepiece Is Always Considered to Be Saying
"Tick, Tock."

Why do we always regard a clock as saying "tick, tock," and not "tick, tick," like a watch? Is there really any distinction between the alternate sounds or is it a matter of psychology? Attention to the problem has been given by an investigator, whose conclusions are most interesting.

The general opinion, according to him, has always been that it was merely a matter of chance whether the "tick" accompanied the left and the "tock" the right beat of the pendulum or vice versa. The first important discovery this authority made was that the "tick" always marks the moment when the pendulum reaches the extreme point of detonation from the perpendicular on its beat to the right, while the reaching of its swing limit to the left is marked by the "tock" in pendulums of all lengths. He found that owing to the fact that the anchor of the escapement mechanism is above the rotating escapement wheel and in the same plane with it, the conditions under which its arms strike the cogs of the wheel are not the same for both arms.

One of the arms of the anchor strikes a cog of the wheel moving upward, in a direction opposed to that of the anchor, while the other arm strikes against the cog while it is moving downward, nearly in the same direction as the anchor. The result of the unequal conditions under which the two arms of the anchor engage the cogs of the escapement wheel is naturally an acoustic difference in the sounds produced by the contact of the parts.

SIMPLY PERFECT IN THEORY

Kitchen Management Left Nothing to Be Desired, Except the Prosilo Fact of Cooking.

An experienced housewife, who has never taken any other course in domestic science than that afforded by wrestling many years with the problem of three meals a day, felt much interested when her college-bred daughter told her that she was going to spend the week-end with a friend who was the last word in the highbrow world of the cooking specialist.

"Mother, it was wonderful," exclaimed the girl on her return. "On one side of her white-tiled laboratory —she doesn't call it a kitchen—there is the dishwashing machine and on the other the long tables for the constructive work. The arrangements are perfect and everything is clean and shining. I'm just crazy about it.
Not a bit like our haphazard kitchen."

"And I presume the food was equally wonderful," said the really sympathetic mother, ready to learn of the new generation. "Tell me about it."

The returned visitor looked thoughtful. "Well, you see, we didn't go very deep into cookery. She never does. We had dinner made in the fireless cooker, some sort of stew. And the rest of the stuff she gets at the delicatessen."

party didn't bring back any fish but

Suicide of A Prominent Family

That Sherman Leonard, the Oakland insurance agent who committed suicide in the Hotel Oakland Sunday, was the son of Colonel J. N.
Leonard, formerly of San Jose, and the brother-in-law of United States Senator Norris of Nebraska, was the information reaching the News of last night.

It was not generally known that Leonard came from such a prominent family. Leonard was in good financial condition but a nervous breakdown due to overwork was thought to have caused him to take his life. Leonard is survived by a wife and three-year-old son and a brother, John Leonard, all residents of Oakland.

Elks Won Game Sunday By 8-0

The Richmond Elks defeated the Union Construction Company's team in a loosely played baseball game here Sunday by the score of 8 to 0, the Richmond club having no difficulty in securing the measure of the construction men. Hollis made a remarkable performance on the mound for the locals, allowing only two hits, striking out nine men and passing only two. Schwake was the star at the bat, getting a homer, a triple and a single in three trips to the plate. The score:

R. H. B.
Union Construction Co. 0 2 2
Richmond Elks 8 13 0 Batteries—Kogler, Apperson and Dooley; Hollis and Schwake, Cleeck.

pelling customers to come. Beck has wintered and summered here in Richmond for eight years and has seen the mud holes of Macdonald avenue smoothed into the macadamized paths of progress.

In appreciation of the steadfast patronage of the people of these parts, "Beck" is giving a birthday party to his friends. That is, he furnishes the eats this week at cost. He is giving his time and cut out self-profit. This deluge of bargain life "Beck" out of the profiteering class forever. This goes for both of his stores.

CAPE AND GOWNS FOR SPRING WEAR

Garments in Vast Array Make Choice Wholly Up to the Individual.

UNIFORMS AMONG PAST EVILS

Mannish Dressing Does Not Admit of Women Looking Their Best; Pretty Clothes Bring Out True Disposition.

Clothes reflect current events and the spirit of the times in which we live to a greater extent than appears to the casual observer. Fashions are now as topsy-turvy as the rest of the world, observes a prominent fashion correspondent. Many things are shown, but few are chosen, so the best thing we can do is to select the clothes that best express beauty and harmony and that above all are lovely and feminine.

Let uniforms and mannish dressing for women be among past evils. It may be that uniforms are inspiring to feminine wearers—some people think so—but why be inspired to be an efficient machine? Who would prefer the inspiration that comes from frills and furrows? If a woman is beautifully and becomingly dressed she has that soul-craving assurance that comes with the knowledge that she is looking her best, and she is possessed of something akin to the faith that removes mountains. There is no doubt about it—pretty clothes make us cheerful and happy and charming.

There are ever so many new French ideas that we can use in making our spring frocks smart and becoming—for instance, the little undersleeves of white mull that peep from beneath short, tight sleeves of either silk or serge dresses are beautiful. Many of these have puffed finished frills of the mull set on flatly, and sometimes these frills are edged with real lace.

Worth showed directoire gowns of silk with tiny undersleeves, and often a matching treatment was carried out in the rounding neckline. Here a little gilet of mull was edged with one of those perky fluted frills that barely showed itself from beneath the cloth.

Short-waisted dresses of taffeta are corded both at the waistline and rounded neck, and sometimes at the bottom of the sleeves as well. Several of these dresses have small diagonal pockets, and some have small pockets in the bodice.

These goods will be shown on Saturday, May 17, between 2 and 4 p. m. Those desiring information as to prices, etc., call Richmond 921. Remember the location, on car line between East Shore Park and Pullman, corner Wall Street and Potrero Avenue. tf

MAY SPECIALS

Jones has some May specials, also some words in the heading that calls for thought. Jones doesn't advertise as a big store but big values. Consistency is his first name.

Mrs. Anna Jones, daughter of Mrs. Anna Keaton, of 574 Ninth Street, sister of Lieutenant Lathrop of the local fire department, Miss Effie Lathrop, Mrs. Kenney of San Francisco and W. E. Lathrop of Vallejo, passed away last Saturday at Phoenix, Arizona. Lieut. Lathrop left for Phoenix yesterday to attend the funeral.

HISTORY'S BIGGEST CHILD LABOR FINE
Employment of one child for one day in conflict with the child-labor law provisions of the new revenue bill will subject the employer's business to a tax of 10 per cent of the net profits for the entire taxable year. This is the interpretation of the bureau of internal revenue, the administrator of the new law, as announced, and is one of the strictest in the nation's history.

A single exception is made of boys and girls' canning clubs, fostered by the government. The age limit of fourteen is raised to sixteen for work in mines or quarries because of the nature of the work.

Regulations of the bureau provide that in no industry shall children be employed longer than eight hours per day or six days per week, even under provision of state laws which grant certificates under certain conditions.

New Price Level Reached.
After an extended study of prices, it is the opinion of the division of public works and construction department that a new price level has been established by the economic conditions attending the world war, below which they are not likely to fall by any appreciable amount in the near future, the department of labor announces.

"It is believed that the growing confidence," according to the announcement, "in the future of business in this country, evidence of which is seen on all sides, has been justified by the facts that have been learned through the study of the price situation."

Operation or Minimum Wage.
Mr. Filene of Boston recently told how his department store established a minimum wage of $8 per week in 1912 and of the new spirit, and efficiency which came into his organization of 3,000 employees following that change. So successful was the scheme that the minimum wage was increased in 1918 to $10 per week.

BUY A HOME NOW; IT IS EASY TO DO

Did you ever see a family moving? With some it's a habit. With others a necessity. Provident people don't have to move. The propaganda of thrift has wrought wonderful works. People who never dreamed they would own a home of their own have had a hazy desire realized.

Liberty Bonds are the foundation of fortune of ambitions achieved. In line with the policy of "own your own home" as advocated by your government the Thousand Oaks Realty Co. are aiding the ambitions by accepting these "Promises to Pay" which you bought to help Uncle Sam, and will show you the easiest way to part company with the moving man forevermore. It's a slacker who can't save $5 a month, toward a home.

- Why we ask you not to waste water

Is it because we are afraid of a shortage of water?

No. This year's rain has filled the reservoirs with enough water to insure an adequate supply for at least ten years.

Is it because we lose when you waste water?

No. You pay us for every drop of water registered by your meter, whether used or wasted. As a matter of fact, the more you waste, the more we gain.

Then why, you ask, do we urge you to save water?

Because in addition to water—we sell service. Part of this service is to give you full value—to help you pay only for what you use and to use all that you pay for.

In this series of advertisements we will show you where to watch for leaks and how to perform household duties without water waste.

If our suggestions are followed, consumers will only pay for water used—not wasted—and will become our greatest asset,—satisfied customers.
